The commons has passed resolutions granting homesteads or scrip to volunteers who assisted in suppressing the Northwest rebellion. A bill founded thereon has been introduced. The St. Albert volunteers are included.

Thomas McGreevey refuses to tell the privileges and elections committee what he did with $20,000 received for election purposes. The committee has reported him to the house and the house has summoned him to appear at its bar on Tuesday.

Davin asks for correspondence in the case of one Grant, who secured a homestead entry for land abandoned by a former settler, after agreeing to pay $300 for the house thereon. Subsequently Dewdney interfered and insisted that Grant pay $600. Grant refused and left. Dewdney subsequently got the place and the original settler only got $300.

The liberals are pressing charges against Chapleau, alleging that part of the profits on the contract for paper supplied the government by the New England paper company were applied towards the reduction of the debt of La Presse newspaper to that company. Chapleau gave out the contract, and is also a large stockholder in La Presse and was a party to the agreement regarding the application of the profits.

The senate railway committee is trying to expose the Baie des Chaleurs railway scandals. It is alleged that the bulk of the subsidy granted by the Quebec legislature was applied to paying Mercier's private debts, and carrying Quebec provincial elections. Mercier and his friends refuse to testify, claiming that the Quebec provincial legislature is the proper tribunal to enquire into the disbursement of moneys voted by that body.

When the privileges and elections committee met on Tuesday Langevin took the stand and stated that he had resigned from the ministry. He then reviewed the evidence against him and gave his theory to various transactions about which enquiry was held. He denied the sworn testimony of Robert McGreevey, Owen Murphy, Valin and others in almost every particular, saying he knew nothing of any hoodling, departmental favoritism or crookedness alleged. He maintained that the different contracts had been given out in the best interests of the country, and asked for fair, impartial treatment. Senator Frank Smith has taken Langevin's department temporarily. It is stated that Langevin will be whitewashed and made lieutenant governor of Quebec. In the cross-examination Langevin adhered to his statements and denied all charges and evidence against him, throwing all responsibility for irregularities on his subordinates.

THE EXCURSION.

The railway excursion from Calgary on Monday last got up by Messrs. Miquelon and Mouchier was a great success. One hundred and ten passengers arrived by the excursion train, which consisted of a passenger coach and two saloons. There was some difficulty in finding accommodation for such a large party, but finally all secured comfortable quarters in the various hotels or at the houses of friends. On Tuesday many driving parties were organized and the St. Albert and Sturgeon river settlements viewed with most appreciative eyes. The baseball match between Calgary and Edmonton teams in the afternoon furnished diversion for those who loved the game and the foot races in the evening and concert at night kept up the interest. The weather, which was threatening in the morning, turned fine during the day, so that the pleasure of the trip was not marred. All the strangers expressed themselves as surprised and delighted at the appearance of the country and the crops, and particularly the vegetable gardens and flower beds. Messrs. Henderson and Knowles' vegetables, flowers and bees were of great attraction. Taken all around it was a great day for Edmonton; such an advertisement as it never had before, but it is to be hoped will often have in future. Some of the excursionists showed their appreciation of the place by investing in property and many others expressed their intention of doing so at no distant date. The greater part of the excursionists left on Wednesday's train but a large number remained over until Friday. The following is a partial list of the excursionists stopping at the various hotels:

BASE BALL.

The base ball match between the Calgary & Edmonton teams on Tuesday afternoon last attracted a large crowd of spectators to the race course. The Calgary team comprised Messrs. Kinnesten, Tarrant, Clark, Lashbrook, Watson, Baetz, Young, Comer and Kerr. Jas. Smart umpire and S. J. Cowan scorer. The Edmonton team consisted of Messrs. T. P. Carney, A. Pattison, W. Patton, W. Clark, W. R. Nutt, D. McPhadden, D. Stewart, Rev. D. G. McQueen and Rev. C. Cunningham. H. Anthony umpire. C. L. Shaw scorer. The game resulted in Edmonton making 22 runs in 9 innings and Calgary making 28 runs in 8 innings, leaving Calgary the winner by 6 runs and an innings. L. Tarrant was captain of the Calgary team and T. P. Carney of the Edmonton team.

FOOT RACES.

SOME lively foot racing took place on Tuesday evening. Torrance of the Calgary base ball team and Moosewa of Lake St. Ann, 100 yards, $100 a side, won by Moosewa. It is estimated that $1,000 changed hands on this race. When it became known on the arrival of the excursionists on Monday night that they had a champion runner amongst them whom the Calgary men were prepared to back heavily, J. F. Smith set out at once for Lake St. Ann, 50 miles distant, to bring in Moosewa. He got back in good time with his man and the race came off about 7 o'clock with the above mentioned result. P. C. Campbell and Jas. Smart of the Calgary ball team, 50 yards for $10 a side, won by Smart. Kerr of the ball team and Hislop, 50 yards for $25 a side, won by Kerr. On the two latter races the Calgary men won back a part of the money lost on the first race.

THE NORTHWEST BILL.

MR. EDITOR: It is a matter of regret to notice in your issue of 1st instant, that you wish to throw cold water, on the efforts of the minister of the Interior, with reference to the present iniquitous Prohibition Law of our Territories.

The law in question was made, as you are aware, so that the Indians only, might not get liquor. This was several years prior to the Territories being open for settlement. At the time it was put into force, it was good, and answered the purpose, but it now stands as a relic of the barbarism that then existed, but no longer exists, and is a blot on the intelligence, and liberties, of the whole population. It was never meant as a temperance act, and should have been done away with, like other useless acts, which are made for the time being only, and as soon as they are found of no use, on account of the advance of civilization, are amended.

It has been one of the greatest drawbacks that the Territories have been burdened with. It has retarded the settlement in every way, keeping out wealthy, educated and intelligent settlers, that to-day would have been a credit to this, or any other country, but who were not accustomed to be dictated to by any uncivilized law—(made for the guidance of savages—not intelligent human beings.) It has been the means of keeping the farmers, and country generally poorer by several hundred thousand dollars yearly.

The Edmonton district alone, it is said, has spent between $50,000 and $60,000 yearly for some years past, for liquor, and beer, and the freight of same, from Ontario and Manitoba.

The settlers in the Territories all labor under the false impression, that there is no direct tax that they have to pay. They are wrong, there is no civilized country under the sun where they have to pay such a heavy direct tax on one of the principal products of the country, as we have on barley. If the value is 35c or 40c per bushel, then the tax is the same, as we are prohibited from the manufacture of its products, and therefore there is hardly a farmer who would not have been as well off again as he is if we had a cash market for barley for home consumption alone, without saying anything about this district's being able, as it is, to furnish other portions of the Territories, which have not our grand soil and producing capacity. Looking at the law, as it now is, and ever will be, no matter what prohibitionists think to the contrary, there is nothing in it morally. It cannot be made a temperance country by law. No one with any sense of justice, or love for the advancement of the Territories, will remain quiet and bear a yoke, degrading to every sense of manhood. A yoke that the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward's Island, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba nor British Columbia, are not asked to bear, and for what reason? Simply, there would be a rebellion. It is narrow minded, suicidal, laws of this kind that have caused so much trouble in Manitoba and the west within the past few years. Have the people and the government not learned enough by the bitter experience? Or do you mean to advocate that our settlers are to go on supporting the provinces of Ontario and Manitoba, and not have a home, as well as an export market, for their barley, as one would suppose from reading your criticism on the minister of the interiors endeavors on the Territories behalf. FORT SASKATCHEWAN. 3rd August, 1891.
